Have You Heard?

McCaig Elsenius

Congratulations to the Ross family of Albany, who were married 50 years ago on July 16, 1923, in South Dakota. The bride, Mrs. Lillian Ross, is now 79 years old and has been a resident of the past 29 years in Albany. She and her husband made their first home in Albany in 1923. The couple has four children and 12 grandchildren. The wedding was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Laura Woods, on Saturday evening, July 14. The ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Mr. John H. Johnson. The bride wore a white gown and a tiara. The groom wore a tuxedo. The wedding party included the bride's daughter, Mrs. Mary Ann Shaw, and the groom's son, Mr. Robert Ross. The reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Laura Woods. The couple will be celebrating their 50th anniversary on July 16, 1973.

Speaking of wedding anniversaries... who says romance is dead? Not in the John H. Johnsons' marriage, anyway! The couple celebrated their 30th anniversary recently, and as a surprise to his wife, romantic Brady Ross, who is now a resident of the Mainland, had reservations at the same hotel where they had their honeymoon in, with the same room, same menu, etc. It was a very eventful day 30 years ago. He then came home and said to his wife, "Pack our bags, we're leaving." What a nice surprise and what a memory!

From Hawaii — Lydia Ross, former and long-time resident of Albany, may soon be moving to the Mainland and friends in Albany. Lydia retired a few years ago, and her position with the City of Albany's credit office, and her enjoyment of her retirement in the beautiful Hawaiian Islands. However, illness has prevented this and is forcing her to return.

Hear that three Albany residents were among the largest group of people ever at the University of California at Santa Barbara. Ann Shaw received her Bachelor's degree in Religious Studies during the ceremonies, Herminio Ruiz, Jr., a BA in Psychology. (Continued on Page 3)

Commission Continues Open Space Hearing To July 24

The Planning and Zoning Commission's public hearing to discuss the preliminary draft of the Open Space Element of the Albany General Plan, held on Tuesday, July 10, was very poorly attended, according to Planning Commission chairman, Sam Dows.

The draft, prepared by Duncan & Jones, Consultants, and presented by their senior planner, Joan Lamphier, noted that Albany, because of its size and location, had few areas to develop for parks and recreation. It did, however, suggest that the City attempt to preserve and improve several additional areas for open space, including a recommendation that "the City explore means of providing public access to the shoreline area, until such time as the Albany Isles plan is completed."

Noting the failure of the Middle School and Recreational Facility Bond issue in the recent June election, the Consultants also suggested that the City consider acquiring and developing that section of Gill Tract in University Village as a future school site and recreational area.

Another suggestion was for the City to acquire the vacant property adjacent to Codornices Creek, bounded by Francis, Neilson and Tevin Streets and the Albany City line. On this particular block the creek is surrounded by trees and a large undeveloped flat area, which offers a natural, undeveloped beauty in contrast to the surrounding urban development, and should be preserved.

Noting the importance of Albany Hill as a visual landmark in the City, Duncan & Jones recommends that the City accept Interstate General's offer of two parcels of land for public open space — the four-acre site at the base of the Hill, adjacent to the Blind Orientation Center, and the two-acre Overlook Park to be located at the top of the Hill. According to the feelings of the Planning Commission, the development and maintenance of this open space will increase the Parks and Recreation Department budget, but will be offset by the enhanced property values in the area.

The Planning Commission, on reviewing the plan, requested that the maps accompanying the plan indicate all open space in the City, including the Marin School site and the proposed Middle School site.

The Commission also requested financial data regarding the cost of acquiring and developing the Codornices Creek area property.

Action on the plan was postponed until the Planning Commission's next meeting, to be held at 8 p.m., Tuesday, July 24, in the City Council Chambers.

Although the Commission closed its public hearing on the plan at its July 10 meeting, after all persons had been heard, should attendance at the July 24 meeting give evidence of sufficient interest, the hearing may be re-opened for more public discussion.

Following the Commission's final action, the Plan will be referred to the Albany City Council for approval and adoption.

Variety and Bargains Offered At Library Weekend Book Sale

The Friends of the Albany Library are holding their annual "Giant Book Sale," Saturday and Sunday, July 21 and 22, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Cornell School Cafeteria in Albany. Cornell School is located at 904 Talbot Avenue, but the cafeteria may be entered from Cornell Street.

Thousands of volumes will be offered, at bargain basement prices, and will cover every conceivable subject. The picking will be good for collectors at all times, as the Friends will be bringing in fresh material throughout the sale. "Your chances of making a real find will be as good on Sunday afternoon as on Saturday morning," states Albany Librarian, Maria Jay.

Proceeds from the sale return directly to the community, through expanded library programs and facilities. The Book Sale funds from last year's sale financed a large number of children's programs, including a magician and two visits each from the Paper Animal Lady and the Snake Lady. The Snake Lady was so popular with adults, that the Friends will sponsor a program for grown-ups only. Book Sale money has also paid for colorful murals in the Children's Room, folding doors in the Children's Room, and a number of magazine subscriptions to such specialized publications as "Antiques." And these are only part of the benefits that come from the sale.

When you make a purchase at the Albany Friends of the Library Book Sale, you are buying reading pleasure for yourself, and a better library for the community.

Residential Burglaries And Bicycle Thefts Continuing

The Albany Police Department reports that the City had 107 residential burglaries during the first half of the year, and in most cases access was easily made into the homes through doors and windows left unlocked. In spite of the many warnings issued by the Department and the press, residents are still negligent. Only last week a woman's home was victimized while she was in the back yard gardening — both her front and back doors were unlocked.

Two young Negro girls, nine and 11 years old, from East Oakland and West Berkeley, were apprehended while attempting to burglarize a University Village residence. The girls' "method of operation" was to pretend to be soliciting donations for the Girl Scouts. When they determined no one was home they gained entry and searched for purses and wallets containing money. They were suspected of being responsible for several other burglaries in the same area.

The Colonel Saunders chicken outlet on San Pablo Avenue was robbed last week, and due to the confusion of the employees, who waited almost five minutes to turn in the alarm, the culprits escaped.

Jon Matheson, a Jackson Street resident who is attempting to start a "Home Alert Program" in Albany, in practicing what he preaches, aided the Police Department recently to recover a car which had been stolen in Pinole. The Police Department reports that, although auto thefts have increased in neighboring cities, Albany has had a slight decrease, possibly due to a few persons such as Mr. Matheson.

Fellows, Sony Bihl, Johnnie McDonald, Bill Lewis, Rich Marasco, Charley Luty, Mike Cassidy, Jerry Nakao, Don Sofranac and Alex Boyovich. Team manager is John Bartolo and Jeff O'Donnell handles the coaching details.

Bicycle thefts are another matter, though, says acting Police Chief Mel Boyd, who points out that unless the bicycle has been licensed, and the number stamped on the frame, chances of identifying a stolen bike are almost impossible. Boyd indicated he is preparing a press release in connection with the subject for future publication.

An Albany housewife received a suspicious telephone call last week, from a man who was inquiring as to how many television sets she had in her home. He did not identify himself, except to say he was conducting a poll for a Solano Avenue TV shop. The woman refused to give him any information and reported the incident to the Police Dept.

Anyone receiving such a call should not give out any information, but should ask for the caller's name and where he is employed and offer to return his call at his place of employment at a later time. Such calls should also be reported to the Police Dept.

Three juveniles from Berkeley and one from Albany, were apprehended last week after they tossed a burning American Flag on the porch of a Talbot Avenue resident. One youngster had the keys to Cornell School in his possession, and it is thought that is where the Flag was obtained.

Two very mature marijuana plants were seized in the back yard of an Albany residence, and the young man who had been cultivating them was arrested and released on $1,000 bail. The plants, when harvested and processed, would yield approximately $200 worth of marijuana.

Opium poppies were taken from the yard of an unsuspecting Albany resident recently, who told police officers that her father had planted regular Oriental poppies 27 years ago. The Police Department has discovered that such plants revert back to opium poppies after three years, and requests that anyone having any question about poppies growing in Albany should notify the Department.

Council Decision on Clark Variance Continued 2 Weeks

After a lengthy public hearing to hear and act upon the application of Mrs. Gloria Clark (wife of Councilman Richard Clark) requesting permission to divide a lot between 808 Cerrito St. and 860 Washington, to construct a single family residence, the Albany City Council voted to hold over the hearing and making a final decision until July 30 in order to go further into the matter of building heights and other pertinent questions concerning the Clark's proposed plan. (Councilman Clark abstained from voting, due to his involvement in the plan.)

Most of the members of the audience, who attended to speak on the subject of the Clark's request, appeared in opposition to the granting of the variance, because of the already congested streets in the area and also because the neighboring yard would be cut off from light and would lose its privacy with the construction of the proposed single family dwelling on a sub-standard lot.

Mrs. Clark was armed with photos, sketches and a 3-dimensional scale model of the proposed construction, and invited members of the Council and audience to examine them in detail. Because she was unable to give the exact height of the buildings in relation to neighboring homes, which was questioned by several in the audience, the Council decided to hold over making a decision until further information is available.

A suggestion from James Turner, Administrative Officer, that the Council continue their hearing on the Open Space Element of the General Plan until they receive final recommendations from the Planning Commission was also approved, with Councilman Hubert Call noting that there was no need to hurry on the decision, as the State deadline had been postponed until December.

Two resolutions were approved at Monday night's Council meeting—No. 73-62, amending the personnel rules and regulations, and 73-65, appointing Beverly Anne Feussler as stenographer in the Public Works Dept.

Several letters of complaint, concerning the janitorial service at the Albany Senior Center, were referred to Bud Rooney, Superintendent of Parks and Recreation Dept., and the Park and Recreation Commission.

The Council also set the date of July 30 for a public hearing to hear and act upon the application of Mr. and Mrs. David Hendrie to enlarge the living room and add a recreation room to their residence at 961 Ordway.

Final action on a report and recommendation, made by the Administrative Officer and concerning the tentative Tract Map for Interstate General's Albany Hill project, was held over until next Monday's meeting.

Council members also instructed City Attorney Larry Saler to prepare a resolution approving the end of the probationary period of City Clerk Pat George and Catherine McPherson, secretary to Administrative Officer Turner.

Under the Good of the City, Councilman Clark stated that although he had missed the Council meeting when the City Budget was approved, he wanted to go on record that had he been present he would have voted in favor of it.

This can be served as a dinner salad, or let it star as the cool winner at a summer luncheon along with cold meats, muffins and dessert.

BLUEBERRY-NECTARINE ICEBERG
1 head western Iceberg lettuce 1 basket fresh blueberries
3 California nectarines

SPICY ORANGE DRESSING
Makes 1 1/2 cups

1 tablespoon cornstarch 1 cup orange juice
1/2 teaspoon salt 2 to 3 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon ground ginger 1/4 cup corn oil
1/4 teaspoon ground cloves Dairy sour cream
1/2 cup honey

Core, rinse and thoroughly drain lettuce; chill in disposable plastic bag or lettuce crisp-ice. Wash, drain and chill nectarines and blueberries. In small saucepan combine cornstarch, salt, ginger and cloves; blend in honey then orange juice. Cook, stirring until mixture thickens; remove from heat. Stir in lemon juice. Pour into small mixer bowl and cool. When cold, gradually beat in oil and chill. At serving time cut lettuce crosswise into one-inch thick slices to make "ratts." Slice nectarines, removing pit. ## Unemployment VS. Investing Capital gains (the profit made from investments) create jobs. It now takes over $25,000 of capital to create a single new job. With an average of 1.4 million workers entering the labor force each year, industry needs investors. Unless capital gains tax laws are equitable (and people are taxed fairly for taking risks with their long-term investments) the small stockholder will lose his incentive to invest, and industry will lose job-creating funds. A few days ago, a good Samaritan walked into our Center carrying a bucket of plums, introduced himself to Beulah Belling, Director, as "Mr. Carlin," and asked if our members would like to have the fruit he was carrying. Would they! Beulah said the plums made a magic disappearance, and that they were the most delicious she had ever tasted.

If any readers of this column should have an excess of fruit or vegetables from their garden, let it be known that members of our Center would gratefully receive any such donations. Most of us do not have the facilities or the energy to have orchards or gardens of our own.

LAW IN ACTION

MR. CLEAN MEETS MR. KLIPP

"It's a lovely apartment: view, fireplace, air conditioning, and only $150 a month. With the first and last month payable now. And a cleaning fee of $150."

You have to stand in the sink to see the view, and the fireplace doesn't work. But you're desperate, and the price isn't bad. So you quickly sign the paper the landlord hands you, and hand over your check for $450, hoping to have enough in the bank to cover.

A year later you decide to move to a bigger place. And you read your copy of the agreement for the first time. It says the cleaning fee is "non-refundable." Well, you've "diligently maintained" the apartment in the condition in which it was rented, just as the agreement says, so you ask for your money back.

"Oh, no," says the landlord. "It says there very clearly non-refundable. That means I keep it."

You mutter something about over his habeas corpus and sue. The court will say you can get all or part of it back. A cleaning deposit is for "cleaning," not as addition rent.

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know your rights.

Though it is legally binding to give up some tenant rights by signing a paper, you give up a refundable deposit. A waiver of a statutory right is not valid unless the tenant can prove you understand there was a waiver of rights.

Some deposits are for security. This may be against damages to the property, or may secure rent. Reasons may exist for the security. If this is the case, there is an explanation in the agreement. If there is any money left after the security is paid, it must be returned.

When a lease says you get a security deposit, the courts will usually rule in favor of the tenant. The law favors penalties of the owner must actually prove damages.

Suppose the owner takes place while you're still in the deposit to the new place. He must either (1) turn the deposit to you or (2) turn the deposit to you. The new buyer is bound by the same obligations and as the previous owner.

If a landlord in bad faith turns your deposit over to a new buyer, he must pay you back. A left over, he must pay you back. A left over, he must pay you back. A left over, he must pay you back.

Recipes

to conserve gas & electricity.
(And lower your PG&E bill.)

Timer

Cook by timer and temperature. You'll get better results and conserve fuel. Don't peek while you're cooking. This wastes heat and money.

Oven

Don't pre-heat it for foods that take over an hour to cook. Turn it off as soon as you're through using it. Don't use it to heat your kitchen.

Pans and lids

Match size of pans to size of cooking unit or flame so you don't waste heat. Reduce flame if it licks around sides of pan. It takes less heat to cook if pans are covered with tight-fitting lids.

Measuring cups

Use only 2-4 tablespoons of water to cook frozen vegetables. For fresh vegetables, use only 1/4-1/2 cup of water (heat faster.)

Burners

Use high heat only to bring water to a boil, then reduce heat to simmer. On electric ranges, turn burner off before food is done; retained heat will complete the cooking. These tips may seem like little things, but they all add up to savings on your PG&E bill. Of course they'll help conserve gas and electricity too.

Local Artist In One-Man Exhibit

Oil paintings by Jo Canada are currently on exhibit through the month of August, at Margarita's Mexican Restaurant, 1406 Solano Avenue, daily from 5:30 to 10 p.m., except Mondays.

Miss Canada, who recently returned from several years of study and travel in Europe, studied under Karl Kasten and Arnold Paris and received her degree in sculpture from the University of California in Berkeley in 1968.

She has shown and received awards in most of the major art shows in the Bay Area, and has had many one-man shows in galleries and restaurants in the San Francisco Bay Area as well as in Europe. The young artist has sold more than 300 paintings here and abroad since her first exhibit in 1958. Her paintings cover a wide variety of subject matter and techniques, including seascapes and nudes are some of her especially popular themes.

Albany Couple Wed In Northbrae Church Rites

Newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Segerberg

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Straub of Albany, gave the hand of their lovely daughter, Nyra Lynn, in marriage to Kenneth Segerberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maury Segerberg, also of Albany, at a beautiful ceremony in the wedding chapel of the Northbrae Community Church.

The bride's full-length gown, hand fashioned by her mother, was of white crystal organza and centered overlaid panels of chantilly lace and pearl buttons, accented with pearl drops around the lace collar. Her cathedral-length train, also of chantilly lace and her veil, a cloud of tulle, were enhanced by a lovely crown of pearls designed by her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Harold Willis, as was her "something blue" garter of satin ribbon and lace. Her "something old and borrowed" was a lovely brooch loaned by the groom's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Eda Segerberg, having belonged to her mother. Nyra's bouquet was an exact replica of her mother's wedding bouquet, made of white orchids and stephanitis.

The Maid of Honor, Miss Jody Davies, formerly of Albany, wore a full-length fitted princess styled gown of lavender dotted Swiss and carried a colonial bouquet of lavender carnations. Hers, as well as the other bridesmaids' tiaras, were also designed by Mrs. Willis. The bridesmaids: Miss Paula Willis of El Cerrito, cousin of the bride, Miss Mary Gonzales and Miss Cheryl Holstein, both of Albany, and Mrs. Diane Piezzi of El Cerrito, wore gowns of blue dotted Swiss. The flower girl, 7-year-old Haryl Straub, little sister of the bride, wore a lavender dotted Swiss dress matching the Maid of Honor and carried the traditional flower basket of lavender and blue carnations and baby's breath. All the attendants' gowns were fashioned by the bride and her mother.

The groom wore a champagne tuxedo as did his best man, Roger Feusier of Albany, and his attendants, Ray Straub, brother of the bride, David Segerberg, brother to the groom, Edward Piezzi and Gary Kern, friends of the groom, all of Albany. Both fathers also wore champagne tuxedos.

The bride's mother wore a long gown of embossed sheer printed lavender and blue over blue taffeta. The groom's mother's gown was of deep aqua with a lace bodice and a full-length skirt with tiny pleats.

The many relatives attending the wedding included: Mr. and

Church News

Pre-registration is in progress for Vacation Bible School at Christ Lutheran Church, 780 Ashbury (at Stockton) in El Cerrito. Classes will be held Monday thru Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 12:20 p.m. from July 30th through August 10th. Three-year-olds through 6th graders may attend both weeks and 7th and 8th graders will attend the second week only. The $2 tuition per child, or $5 per family, covers the cost of materials. Pastor A. E. Syverud and a staff of well-trained teachers and helpers will conduct an excellent program entitled "Tell the News—Share the Love." All are welcome.

For further registration information, contact the church secretary at 524-1050.

The High School Youth Choir of the Lutheran Church of the Cross will present a free concert at 5 p.m., Sunday, July 22, at 1744 University Ave., Berkeley, with Albany youths Eric De Maria, Claudia Neusin, Ann Nakao and Laura Valli featured in special solo works.

"Musical Miscellany" is the title chosen for the program, which will include instrumental and choral works spanning many centuries and styles of music. The changing moods of the music will be reflected in a light show designed especially for this concert by James Jensen.

Joyce Keil will be director for the concert, which will include works by Lotti, Bach, Saint-Seens and Cat Stevens.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Theme for this Sunday morning's service at the Albany First Baptist Church will be "Christmas in July." Pastor Larry Campbell will preach the message "Good Tidings" which will deal with the message of Christmas. The congregation will sing Christmas carols and the church

Mrs. Harold Willis, maternal grandparents of the bride, previously of Albany, now retired and residing in Sonoma; Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Watt of San Leandro, paternal grandparents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Martin of Oakland; Mrs. Jewel Stephenson of Nevada, maternal grandmother and Mrs. Eda Segerberg of Albany, paternal grandmother of the groom.

The champagne reception was held at the Berkeley Elks Club where nearly 300 guests were entertained by the music of the Bob Welmann Orchestra of Oakland.

The newlyweds now reside in Pinole.

LAW IN ACTION

GIFT TO THE PUBLIC
 "You want to use a piece of my ranch land for your little schoolhouse?" Frank Farmer said to the trustee. "Why, I guess that'll be all right. Can't grow much on that acreage any way."

During the next ten years, the "little" schoolhouse grew. It developed a playing field, several new buildings, and by 1970 was occupying five acres of land. Meanwhile, the area around had built up in commercial properties, and the five acres became very valuable. Official county maps, meanwhile, showed the school and its location as part of the farm property.

Frank's grandson, Frank Farmer III, told the school trustees "We can't afford to give you free space any more. You'll have to pay us land rental, or move." The trustees politely said, "No." So Farmer sued.

The school won. The court said the long, uninterrupted use by the school showed the owner had made an "implied dedication," or gift, for public use.

No one knew, or could show what really was said at the negotiations back in 1900. Records were lost, and the original people gone. But the court said the circumstances showed a dedication of the land to public use.

Said the court, "The school used the property without interruption for 60 years. This shows Frank Farmer had an intent to dedicate the property."

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

Take Jones, for example. For more than five years, groups of picnic goers would cross over his property to reach the beach. People did this as a matter of right, with neither interference nor permission of Jones. The public gained a prescriptive right by adverse use to continue that use.

In such instances you should post your property as follows:

"Private property — right to pass by permission and subject to control of owner."

Butcher, Banker . . .

Everyone from the butcher to the banker tries to increase their assets and many invest in the stock market. As a result, some 30,000,000 Americans (two-thirds with taxable incomes under $15,000) invest, and help our economy expand. To make it worth the while of individual investors who take the risk, the capital gains tax must continue to tax long term investments fairly. Z

Donors Aid 4-H'ers Thru Grants, Trips

Some 250 4-H members, nationally, have been assured of $172,400 in scholarships in 1973, according to the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago. The grants account for only one level of recognition of 4-H young people, usually national, offered by some 60 private sector donors interested in America's youth, the Committee announced.

Other recognition in the 4-H program conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service include some 1,250 expense-paid trips to National 4-H Congress, Nov. 25-29, and thousands of medals and other awards. It is expected that additional scholarships and award opportunities will be announced by the Committee during the remainder of the year.

Newest of the donors to 4-H is Kentucky Fried Chicken, which sponsors awards in the national 4-H poultry program for the first time in 1973. Other friends of 4-H, which include corporations, foundations and individuals, have supported 4-H for one, to more than 50 years through recognition awards, technical assistance and educational aids.

This support enables several million 4-H'ers to participate and learn in programs such as bread, dog care and training and entomology, sponsored by Standard Brands Incorporated, Ralston Purina Company and Hercules Incorporated, respectively.

Other donors sponsor programs like food-nutrition, General Foods Corporation; home environment, dealing with home furnishings, equipment and housing, The S&H Foundation, Inc.; and swine, Moorman Mfg. Co.

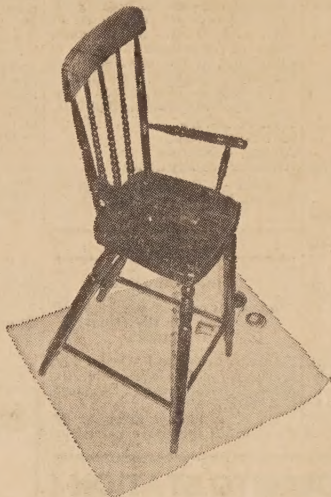

In addition, support to 4-H is provided by Elanco Products Company, A Division of Eli Lilly and Company; Elgin Watch, A Division of Elgin National Industries, Inc.; International Minerals and Chemicals Corporation and E.I. du Pont de Nemours. Adults involved in 4-H aren't forgotten. For 21 years Olin Corporation has sponsored the 4-H alumni recognition program, which honors former 4-H'ers on the county, state and national levels. The Singer Company, meanwhile, sponsors a program of in-service training for leaders.

Among the companies offering nationally special 4-H scholarships to former as well as current 4-H members are: Allied Mills Foundation in animal science; Chevron Chemical Corporation, Ortho Division in crop protection; Homelite, A Division of Textron, Inc. in forestry. Also, Champion Valley Farms, Inc. in veterinary medicine; The S&H Foundation and The West Bend Company, home economics and The Wehr Corporation for general 4-H accomplishments.

The National 4-H Service Committee notes that 4-H is growing rapidly in all areas of the country. A non-profit, educational organization the Committee has been aiding the growing 4-H program for 52 years through program services and aids, public relations, National 4-H News, and a supply service, as well as incentives and awards.
